Our annual kids' camp and production comes up in early June with a eleven day theatre workshop leading to three performances of Disney's THE LITTLE MERMAID Jr. This is open to any elementary, junior high and high school age students including those entering 1st grade next fall. There are parts for all ages and even those not wanting to appear on the stage can participate and have fun working on the tech end of a production. Some of the lead roles will be cast in early May--and the rest of the parts will be filled the first day or two of camp week. Everyone registered for camp will be in the production.

Seasoned LLT veteran Katelyn Bryant will lead daily workshops for the kids to learn the audition, rehearsal, production and performance process, and they'll have an unbelievably memorable time doing it.
